- But a little vague once we get going
- Isn't there something more?

A woman with dark hair, wearing a blue dress, is seen from the chest up, looking out of a window. The window looks out onto a large building under construction, with a complex network of steel beams and scaffolding. The scene is bathed in a warm, orange light, suggesting either sunrise or sunset. The woman's expression is contemplative as she gazes at the construction site.

Let's ask the question...

What more can you do?

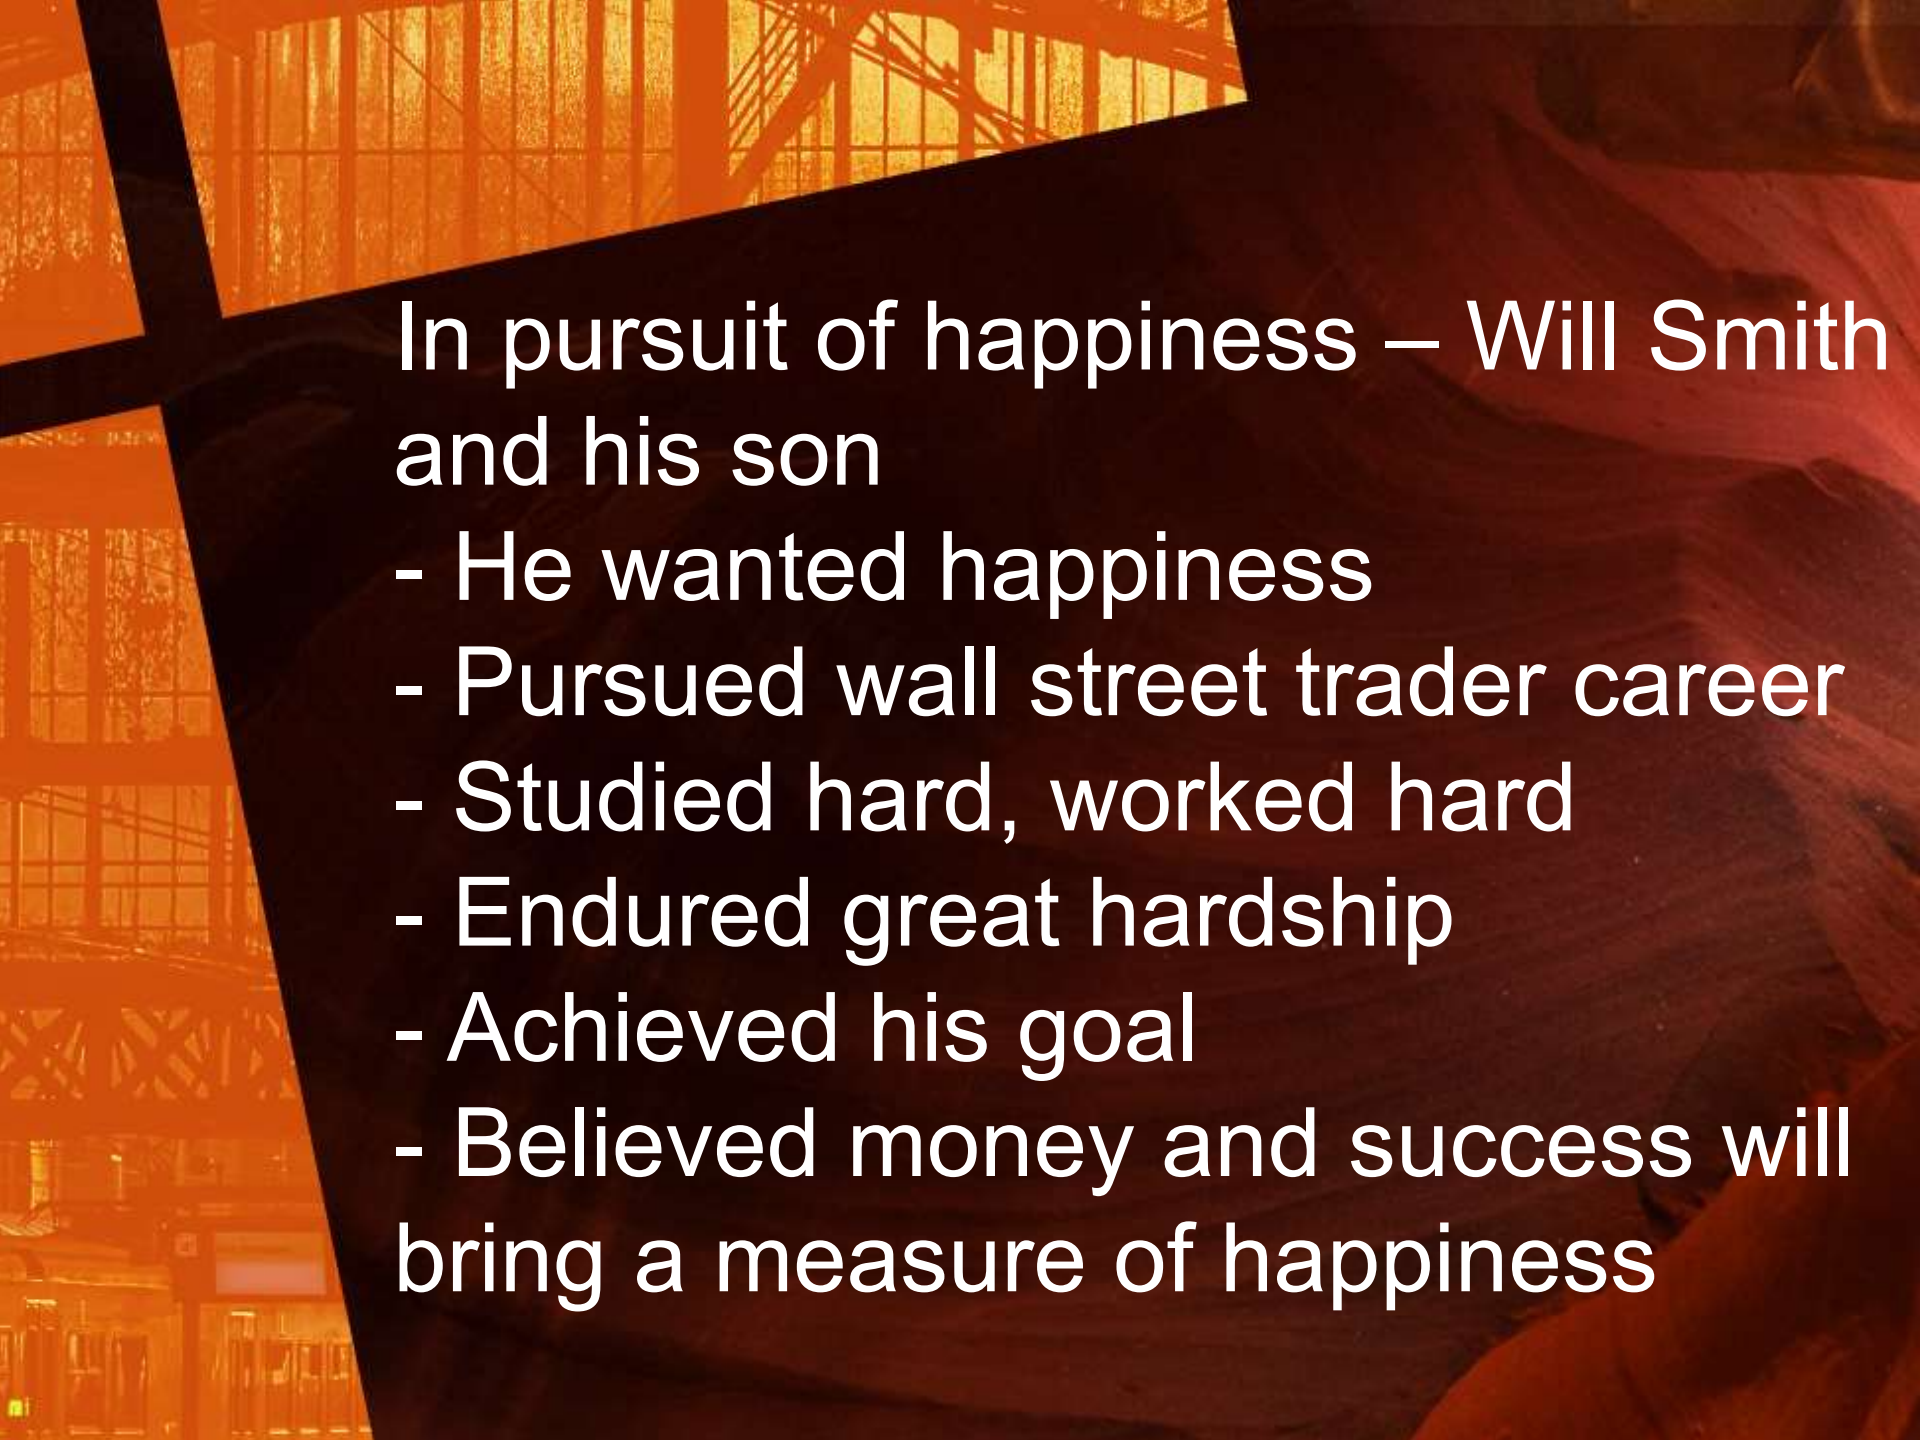

i. Where you are,

ii. with what you have

iii. as the person that you are?

It's not about extending your Christian to do list. It's about changing our thinking and looking at our world with new eyes came to me, saying: "Before I formed you in the womb I knew you; Before you were born I sanctified you; I ordained you a prophet to the nations."

... the world is Mine, and all its fullness.
