■ But understand this, that in the last days will come (set in) perilous times of great stress and trouble [hard to deal with and hard to bear]. For people will be lovers of self and [utterly] self-centred, lovers of money and aroused by an inordinate [greedy] desire for wealth, proud and arrogant and contemptuous boasters.

2 Timothy 3:1-4 (AMP)

They will be abusive (blasphemous, scoffing), disobedient to parents, ungrateful, unholy and profane. [They will be] without natural [human] affection (callous and inhuman), relentless (admitting of no truce or appeasement); [they will be] slanderers (false accusers, troublemakers), intemperate and loose in morals and conduct, uncontrolled and fierce, haters of good.

[They will be] treacherous [betrayers], rash, [and] inflated with self-conceit.

[They will be] lovers of sensual pleasures and vain amusements more than and rather than lovers of God.“

2 Timothy 3:1-4 (AMP)

The background is a blue-tinted photograph of a city at night. A large suspension bridge, likely the Golden Gate Bridge, is visible on the right side, with its cables and towers extending across the frame. The city lights are visible in the distance, creating a bokeh effect. The overall mood is serene and contemplative.

“having a form of godliness but denying its power. And from such people turn away!”

(micro-aggressions)

1. An exaggerated sense of self-importance example:

- exaggerates achievements and talents
- expects to be recognized as superior without commensurate achievements

translation:

Grandiosity is the hallmark of narcissism. So what is grandiose?

2. Preoccupation with fantasies of unlimited success, power, brilliance, beauty, or ideal love

translation:

Narcissists cultivate solipsistic or "autistic" fantasies, which is to say that they live in their own little worlds (and react with affront when reality dares to intrude).

3. Believes he / she is "special" and can only be understood by, or should associate with, other special or high-status people (or institutions)

translation:

Narcissists think that everyone who is not special and superior is worthless. By definition, normal, ordinary, and average aren't special and superior, and so, to narcissists, they are worthless.

4. Requires excessive admiration

translation:

Excessive in two ways: they want praise, compliments, deference, and expressions of envy all the time, and they want to be told that everything they do is better than what others can do. Sincerity is not an issue here; all that matter are frequency and volume.

5. Has a sense of entitlement

translation:

They expect automatic compliance with their wishes or especially favorable treatment, such as thinking that they should always be able to go first and that other people should stop whatever they're doing to do what the narcissists want, and may react with hurt or rage when these expectations are frustrated.

6. Selfishly takes advantage of others to achieve his own ends

translation:

Narcissists use other people to get what they want without caring about the cost to the other people.

7. Lacks empathy

translation:

They are unwilling to recognize or sympathize with other people's feelings and needs. They "tune out" when other people want to talk about their own problems. In clinical terms, empathy is the ability to recognize and interpret other people's emotions.

7. Lacks empathy

translation:

Lack of empathy may take two different directions: (a) accurate interpretation of others' emotions with no concern for others' distress, which is characteristic of psychopaths; and (b) the inability to recognize and accurately interpret other people's emotions, which is the NPD style.

7. Lacks empathy

translation:

This second form of defective empathy may (rarely) go so far as alexithymia, or no words for emotions, and is found with psychosomatic illnesses, i.e., medical conditions in which emotion is experienced somatically rather than psychically.

7. Lacks empathy

translation:

People with personality disorders don't have the normal body-ego identification and regard their bodies only instrumentally, i.e., as tools to use to get what they want, or, in bad states, as torture chambers that inflict on them meaningless suffering.

7. Lacks empathy

translation:

Self-described narcissists who've written to me say that they are aware that their feelings are different from other people's, mostly that they feel less, both in strength and variety (and which the narcissists interpret as evidence of their own superiority);

7. Lacks empathy

translation:

some narcissists report "numbness" and the inability to perceive meaning in other people's emotions.

In the background, a suspension bridge with many cables is visible against a dark sky. The street is lit up with streetlights, and there are some lights from buildings in the distance.

8. Is often envious of others or believes that others are envious of him/her

9. Shows arrogant, haughty, patronizing, or contemptuous behaviors or attitudes

translation:

They treat other people like dirt.

Narcissism - the 10 Hidden Signs

1. Narcissists lack compassion
2. They modify the facts
3. Narcissists manipulate.
4. They see themselves as above the rules
5. They are not thick-skinned
6. They are highly critical of others
7. Narcissists seek compliments

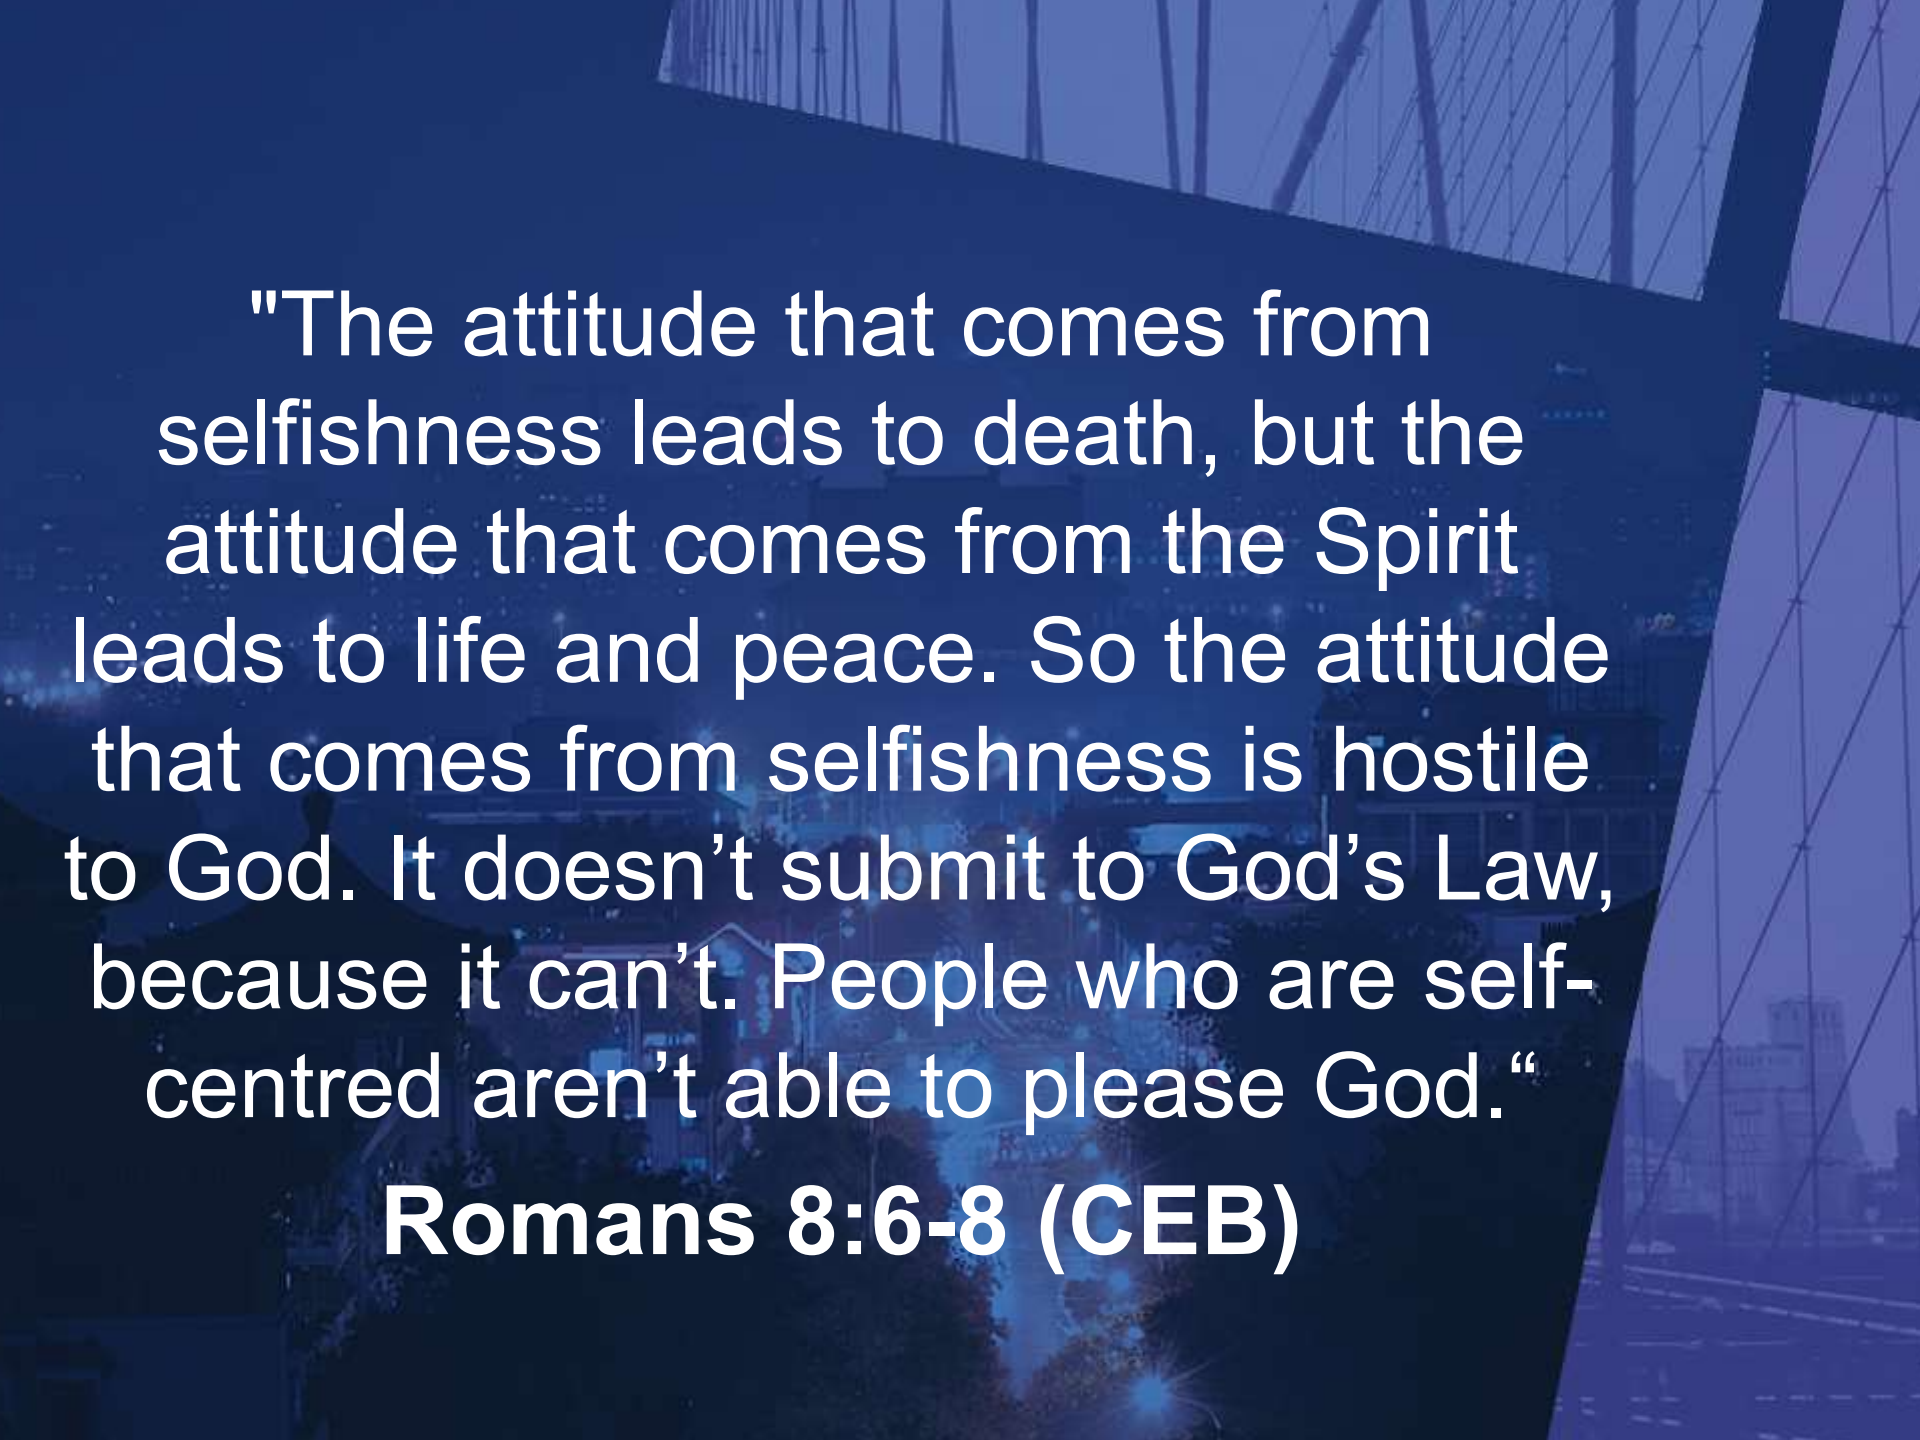

Narcissism - the 10 Hidden Signs

8. On the other hand, they may speak highly of themselves.
9. Narcissists like to look awesome.
10. They want the “best.”

AUTHENTIC LOVE: antidote for narcissism

"The attitude that comes from selfishness leads to death, but the attitude that comes from the Spirit leads to life and peace. So the attitude that comes from selfishness is hostile to God. It doesn't submit to God's Law, because it can't. People who are self-centred aren't able to please God."

Romans 8:6-8 (CEB)

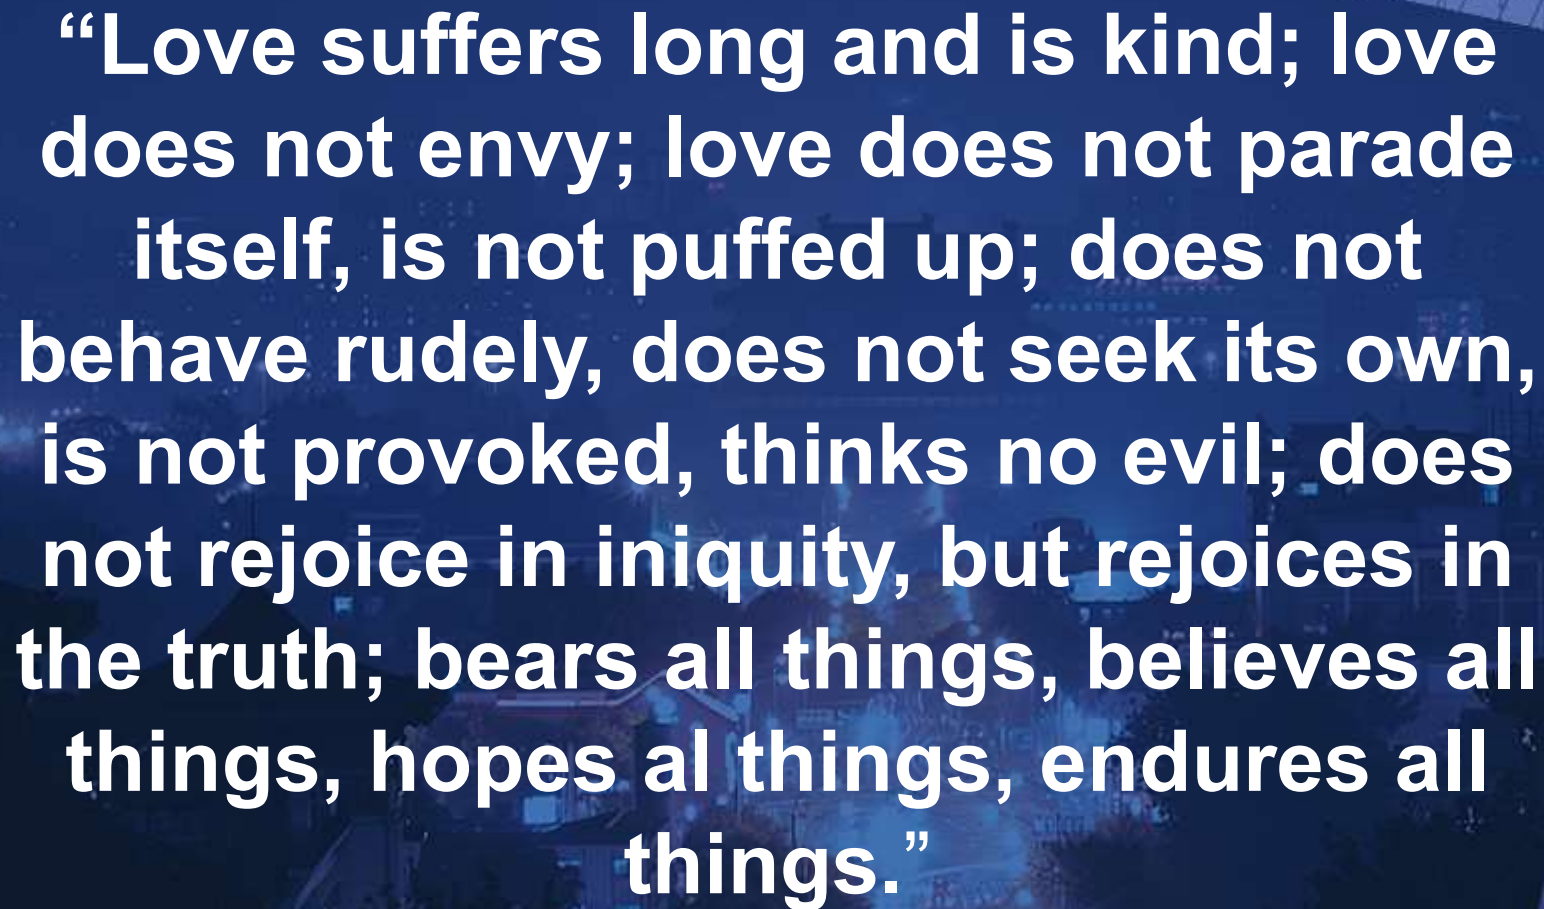

"But the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self control"

Galatians 5:22-23 (NET)

It is thus possible to read the eight characteristics following "love" as defining love.

Skills and tools of love / emotional - spiritual growth

“Love suffers long and is kind; love does not envy; love does not parade itself, is not puffed up; does not behave rudely, does not seek its own, is not provoked, thinks no evil; does not rejoice in iniquity, but rejoices in the truth; bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things.”

1 Corinthians 13:4-7 (NKJV)

Narcissism vs. Godliness

narcissists ...

focus on the failures
of others

have a critical, fault-finding spirit

are self-righteous

have an independent,
self-sufficient spirit

the godly ...

are overwhelmed with a sense of their own spiritual need

are compassionate

seek to esteem all others better than themselves

have a healthy interdependence

narcissists ...

have to prove that they are right assertive and claim their rights are self-protective of their time, rights, and reputation

the godly ...

willing to yield the right to be right yield their rights; they have a meek spirit are self-denying

narcissists ...

desire to be served

aspire after and obsess over success

desire self-advancement and indulge in self-promotion

the godly ...

motivated to serve others

motivated to be faithful and to make others a success

desire to promote others and shy away from excessive positive attention

narcissists ...

have a drive to be recognized and appreciated feel wounded when others are promoted and they are overlooked have both a conscious and subconscious sense of having much to offer God

the godly ...

have a sense of their own unworthiness eager for others to get the credit have a profound understanding of their own bankruptcy

narcissists ...

feel confident in how much they know, thus have a burning desire to teach and correct others are self-conscious, but ironically out of touch with their true emotions

the godly ...

are humbled by how very much they have to learn, thus remaining disciples who are teaching and receptive not overly concerned with self at all, but ironically keenly self-aware

narcissists ...

keep others at arms'
length

quick to blame others

unapproachable or defensive when criticized or corrected

the godly ...

are willing to risk getting close to others and to make themselves
vulnerable

accept personal responsibility and liability

receive criticism or correction with a humble, gracious demeanour

narcissists ...

concerned with personal image management and reputational risk

find it difficult to share their spiritual need with others

want to be sure that no one finds out when they have sinned

the godly ...

concerned with being authentic/real

willing to be open and transparent with others as God directs

once broken, don't care who knows or who finds out

narcissists ...

have a hard time saying, "I was wrong; will you please forgive me?"

tend to deal in generalities when confessing sin concerned about the consequences of their sin

the godly ...

quick to admit failure and to seek forgiveness when necessary able to acknowledge specifics when confessing their sin grieved over the cause, the root of their sin

narcissists ...

remorseful over their sin, sorry that they got found out or caught wait for the other to come and ask forgiveness

the godly ...

truly, genuinely repentant over their sin take the initiative to be reconciled

narcissists ...

compare themselves,
and compete with others and feel worthy of honor

blind to their true
heart condition

don't think they have anything to repent of

the godly ...

compare themselves to the holiness of God and feel a desperate need for His mercy

are transparent; they
'walk in the light'

realize they have need of a continual heart attitude of repentance

narcissists ...

don't think they need revival, but they are sure that everyone else does
