

Vertrou in God

Ps Karl Holz

ARCHBISHOP COMMENTS ON SPEAKING IN TONGUES

Right: the Archbishop of Canterbury

Justin Welby, the Archbishop of Canterbury, recently shared his testimony and said that, for him, speaking in tongues is routine. "It's just a routine part of spiritual discipline; you choose to speak and you speak a language that you don't know. It just comes. Speaking in tongues, or 'glossolalia,' is not some believe that the ability to speak in other human languages, or an intelligible prayer language, was inspired by the Holy Spirit only among Christians of the first century Church."

Welby said his own personal conversion experience occurred on October 12, 1975, while he prayed with a Christian friend at college. "Amid the prayer I felt a clear sense of something changing, the presence of something that had not been there before in my life". In the interview, Welby also shared about his German Jewish background, his prayer life and how he plans to "find new ways in which England, despite the secular age, can give

'CESSATIONISTS ARE WRONG' ABOUT SPEAKING IN TONGUES, SAYS PASTOR

Above: Mark Driscoll Right: John MacArthur

choose to speak and you speak a language that you don't know. It just comes. Speaking in tongues, or 'glossolalia,' is not embraced by all Christians, as Jewish background, his prayer life and how he plans to "find new ways in which England, despite the secular age, can give American pastor Mark Driscoll of Mars Hill Church in Seattle, recently spoke on the gift of tongues as described in the New Testament. The sometimes controversial, self-described Reformed, Evangelical, Christian minister, laid out his arguments as to why he believes the gift of speaking in tongues did not end with the Apostles in the first century. Cessationists, such as influential pastor and traditionalist John MacArthur, believe that 1 Corinthians 13:8 and other Biblical passages indicate that the divine ability to speak in other languages or an unknown tongue ended with the Apostles' deaths, as did prophetic revelations and faith-healings through individuals.

CHRIS WATER

"It is far easier to have faith in God; there are unbelievers who have this. It is a lot harder to exercise trust in Him"...unknown

Charles Blondin, 1859

Vertrou in God: Psalms
Psalms 20.7; 25.2; 37.3;
40.3; 62.8

Vertrou volkome op die Here en moenie op jou eie insigte staat maak nie. Spreuke 3:5

Die geloof kom dus deur die prediking wat 'n mens hoor, en die prediking wat ons hoor, is die verkondiging van Christus. Romeine 10:17

In God stel ek my vertrou, ek is nie bang nie. Wat kan 'n mens aan my doen? Psalm 56:11

“Simon, Simon!” het Jesus gesê. “Luister! Die Satan het daarop aangedring om julle soos koring te sif. ³² Maar Ek het vir jou gebid dat jou geloof jou nie begewe nie. As jy weer tot inkeer gekom het, moet jy jou broers versterk.” Lukas 22:31-32

- Wat is 'n “Kingdom Key” wat God nou vir ons wil gee?
- Wat wil God deel van ons “DNA” maak?

- I. Vertroue in God
- II. Lei met vertrou
- III. Werk deur seerkry en aanstoot

